

Horizon Engineering
Associates LLP

Demand a Higher StandardSM

Location: New York, NY

A Building Enclosure Engineer is responsible for the planning and execution of multiple projects and resources. Responsibilities include consulting, testing, and commissioning of building enclosure systems.

Essential Functions

- Responsible for managing, scheduling and budgeting assigned projects.
- Provide weekly task lists to engineering manager for inclusion in weekly work plan.
- Ensure completion of tasks that are conducted or managed are done within budgeted allotments
- Maintain relations with existing clients on assigned projects.
- Support the engineering manager in the training and mentoring of team members on proper documentation development, field procedures and equipment usage.
- Support the development of company standards relating to enclosure consulting and commissioning.
- Support as required, training and business development activities related to enclosure projects.
- Any special projects as required

Requirements:

- Bachelor's Degree in Architecture / Engineering, minimum 7 years of experience in a related positions including previous project management experience.
- At least 3 years' experience working with enclosure systems.
- Professional registrations or certifications such as RA, LEED AP or other related certifications preferred.
- Must be physically fit and capable of lifting at least 30 pounds and climbing ladders
- Ability to travel

